There was a study done in Yale in 1970. They interviewed the senior class. Three percent wrote down their goals for the future. Twenty years later, they came back and re-interviewed the entire class again. The three percent that had written down their goals were happier, healthier, had better relationships, and made more than the other 97% combined!!!! Write down your goals for your life; it may pave the way for greater successes!!!

Please set and do one goal every day toward your dreams!
